

PROBLEM SOLVED.

The easiest way to connect these dots hasn't always been obvious. Until now. It's an energy bill called H.520. And it is designed to help Vermont take control of its economic future. For the first time, one bill will both tackle problems and pursue opportunities. Energy costs will be reduced by expanding heating oil efficiency and weatherization services to all homeowners and small businesses. Burning less fossil fuel will keep Vermont green. Locally owned businesses will be built in rapidly growing, non-polluting, well-paying industries like efficiency services and renewable energy. And new jobs will be created, hundreds of them, as Vermonters are hired and trained to help other Vermonters reduce their energy costs and build energy businesses. Years of experience in business have enabled us to recognize when a creative response to one of the world's most challenging problems has been combined with a major economic opportunity. Go to www.vbsr.org/energy to find out exactly how easy connecting the dots can be. Ask your legislators to override the veto.

The following businesses contributed to this ad:

Andy Robinson Consulting
Balancing Changes
Ben & Jerry's
Benefit Design & Strategies, LLC
Blackwood & Danon
Boomerang
Brattleboro Books
Building for Social Responsibility
Chroma Technology
The Design Group
Earth Turbines, Inc.
Erickson's Consulting

Everyone's Books
Gardener's Supply
Green Mountain Coffee Roasters
groSolar
Jeff Farber Productions
Jubilee Farm
Keyworth Graphics
L&L Valuations, Inc.
Law Office of James Marc Leas
LineSync Architecture
Main Street Landing
Meg Smith & Co.

Merritt & Merritt & Moulton
Microdesign Consulting
Middlebury Electric
Nathaniel Group
NeighborWorks® Alliance of Vermont
NRG Systems, Inc.
Peterson Consulting, Inc.
Pink House Studios, Inc.
Progressive Asset Management
REimaginings
Reiss Buildings and Renovation
ReVisions, LLC

Sarah Forbes Design
Shadow Productions
Small Dog Electronics
Solar Works, Inc.
Solhem Sauna
Spring Hill Solutions
Sun Catcher
William Maclay Architects
& Planners

VBSR
VERMONT
BUSINESSES
FOR SOCIAL RESPONSIBILITY
www.vbsr.org